Dangerous

This payment screenshot is likely fake and manipulated. A payment receipt is not proof that money has arrived in your account.

What to do

0 of 3 done

- [ ] Check your own bank app or statement to confirm the money arrived before you hand over anything or send money back.
- [ ] Do not trust screenshots sent by others as proof of payment.
- [ ] If you are being asked to send money back or pay a fee to 'release' funds, stop immediately as this is a common scam.

Evidence

2 warnings

Invalid UPI handle

High

> The payer's UPI ID ends in '@abcde', which is not a valid Google Pay handle.

Suspicious receipt formatting

Medium

> The overall formatting and details suggest this is a manipulated or fake receipt.

What we found

- The message presents a payment screenshot claiming a transfer of ₹80.
- The receipt contains technical inconsistencies that indicate it has been faked.
- The message does not provide reliable proof of a completed transaction.
- Claims to be from: Google Pay
- Claims made:
  - Payment screenshot: Completed, ₹80, 21 Sept 2026, 1:26 pm, To: HARSHITHA HOTEL, From: RAVI SHASHI NETRE (Canara Bank), UPI transaction ID: 663019500198, Google transaction ID: CICAgPiMj9nnPg
  - Payment check: The payer's UPI ID on Google Pay ('ashi@abcde on Google Pay') ends in '@abcde', which is not a valid Google Pay handle (must end in @okaxis, @okhdfcbank, @okicici or @oksbi).
  - Payment check: The UPI transaction ID '663019500198' is only 12 digits long, which is standard, but the overall formatting and the invalid UPI handle suggest this is a manipulated or fake receipt.
